

Information Systems Division (VI)

As the operational element of the Office of the Chief Information Officer, the function of the Information Systems Division (VI) is to provide the overall life cycle management, integration, and effectiveness of the Center's Information Technology (IT) infrastructure; namely Center-wide software applications, databases, productivity aids, hardware systems and end-user devices, networks, and telecommunications.

